Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 10 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Largely unsettled but chances of dry and sunny spells.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any showers from today decaying as we move into the evening, leaving a dry night with plenty of clear spells, but potential for fog over high ground. Chance of drizzle in the far west during the early hours. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Wednesday:
A largely dry start but cloud pushing over the region, with rain expected in the afternoon. Skies clearing by the evening making way for sunny spells. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A clear start to Thursday but becoming cloudier in the afternoon with strong winds. Feeling breezy on Friday with showers. Breeze continuing into Saturday with potential for further showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.